Our customer said: “I was looking for a bright clear span functional low maintenance facility that could be relocated if necessary. The almost vertical sidewall profile meant that I would be able to make great use of the floor space. The design was easily adaptable to a variety of large entrance doors to facilitate moving equipment in and out. Today I have a bright facility even without internal lighting. The fire resistant covering diffuses the light evenly on both sunny and cloudy days and eliminates any shadows. Sound carries well inside. The stretched membrane ensures the walls remain firm even in windy conditions. I have lots of space and if the need arises I can easily lengthen the building.”
